

Edible Gifts for the Season

Thursday, November 8
6:30pm – 8:00pm

Homemade gifts are valued by all, and especially if they are edible!

Everyone has their family traditions for baking and other tasty treats, but there is a world of edible gifts beyond tradition that can make the season special for your family and friends.

This presentation will feature demonstrations where people can see techniques in action as well as finished products. Participants will see just how easy and stress free it is to start some new traditions and make their own special edible gifts for 2018.
